Local Government Performance Center

Performance Management Training hosted by Cowlitz County

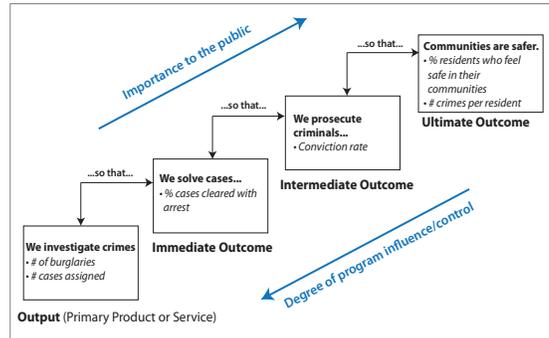

Help your office, agency, or department work smarter in today's performance-driven management culture

Attend this session to learn how you can improve processes and develop and apply performance measures that will make a real difference for your local government.

Logic Models - Part 1 of 2

Thursday, October 9, 2014 8:30 am - 12:00 pm

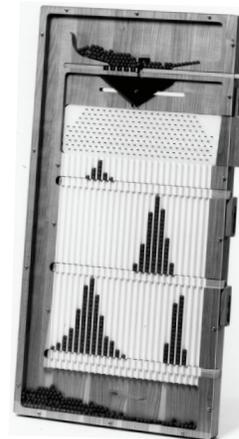

A logic model shows the relationship between the work you do and the results you want to achieve. This class guides you through selecting the performance measures most relevant to your goals and priorities. Homework will be assigned and will need to be completed prior to Introduction to Performance Management.

Introduction to Performance Management - Part 2 of 2

Thursday, October 23, 2014 8:30 am - 12:00 pm

Measuring performance is just the start of the journey to improving performance. This class will help you improve the relevance and usefulness of your performance measures. Topics covered include selecting the most relevant measures for your organization, addressing the reliability of your data collection and recording, and the basics of good charting and analysis.

Who Should Attend

Department directors, managers, and staff who will be developing and tracking performance measures. We will open this training to neighboring cities.
